

Helping you choose the right employee benefits partner for your business

Investing in employee benefits technology can be a minefield – we know there are lots of options out there for a business like yours. At PES, we have an expert team on hand to offer you advice, support and guidance on what package, benefits and services are best for you, both now and in the future.

Before you choose an employee benefits provider, here are a few things to consider.

- Do they share your vision and values? Are they ready to work as an extension of your team?
- Are they committed to providing an outstanding employee experience?
- Do they have an employee benefits technology platform that can be developed in-house to meet your needs?
- Is their technology secure enough to keep your sensitive data safe? Will it integrate easily with HR and other systems?
- Can they advise on which benefits will suit your employee demographic?
- Will they save you money by broking outstanding deals with benefit providers?
- Can they act as a regulated broker for group health and risk benefits, such as life assurance or private medical insurance?
- Will they help you to make the case for employee benefits with the key stakeholders in your business, demonstrating clear advantages and ROI?

- Will they be able to communicate effectively with your employees to launch the scheme with a bang and keep engagement high?
- Do they offer a back-office administration service to save you time?
- Can they provide you with detailed management information on a regular basis so you can make adjustments to your scheme as required?
- Will there be helpdesk support for your employees?
- Can they demonstrate industry-wide recognition for their expertise?
- Do they offer dedicated account management so you have a single point of contact for all your needs?
- Are they based in a convenient location so you can meet regularly?

At PES, we offer a complete employee benefits solution providing everything our clients need to attract, engage and retain the best people.

What's more, we're a friendly, close-knit team, ready to roll up our sleeves and work as a partner.
