

Bible Society

Bible Society is a charity on a worldwide mission to bring the Bible to life for every man, woman and child.

Based in the UK, the charity looks for innovative and creative ways to help Christians engage with the Bible whilst increasing the relevance of the Bible within a secular society.

With 130 employees, three sites and 23 remote workers, Bible Society wanted to demonstrate how much employees are valued. PES has provided an easy-to-use online benefits solution, which does just that.

What were the challenges?

- With a variety of employees from different demographics, Bible Society wanted to ensure that its total benefits package worked for everyone, as well as help to attract new talent into the organisation.
- In a growing organisation, managing the various benefits manually was taking up a significant proportion of HR time.
- Staff struggled to navigate and understand the full value of the existing benefits package.
- As a charity, showing value for money is essential.
- With a small HR team, they needed a provider who would be supportive before, during and after the launch.

“ Our staff are very important to us; we recognised that we needed to do more to show our commitment to them. In addition, we wanted to reduce the administrative burden from the HR team. Working with PES has achieved all this and more! ”

Kim Allen, HR Manager

How did PES help?

PES has developed a bespoke online benefits package that improves the charity's offering to current and new employees. The platform is simple to use, available across all sites and accessible for everyone, including those who work remotely.

“ PES collaborated with us from the start to deliver a really good flexible benefits package, tailored to our specific needs. They continue to support our HR team and employees. It's refreshing to have a company by your side continuing to give great personal service after launching such a big project. ”

- We helped Bible Society grow its benefits offering to staff.
- All the benefits on the platform are being used, especially the Health Cash Plan, which few employees had heard about.
- All the benefits are in one place which all employees can easily access, and the platform is simple to use.
- We're helping Bible Society to develop ideas and add more to the platform such as holiday trading and flu vouchers.

What was the result?

95% of employees
registered with the health cash plan

84% of employees
of employees registered for online shopping

The charity is already considering new benefits to add to its offering.
